Home Loan Guide - Training Sample

TRAINING SAMPLE - fictional information, not bank policy

Important notice

This is a fictional training example. It is not an actual bank policy, offer, rate, or eligibility decision. Confirm real requirements directly with your bank.

Common application documents

Applicants may be asked to provide identity proof, address proof, recent income evidence, recent bank statements, and employment or business details. Self-employed applicants may also be asked for business registration and tax records.

Property documents

A lender may request the property sale agreement, title records, approved building plans, and receipts for payments made. Exact documents depend on the property and local requirements.

Application review

The lender reviews the application, repayment capacity, credit history, and property documents. Submitting an application does not guarantee approval.